Students will spend a full academic year completing eight modules in order to obtain a FETAC Level 5 Certificate in Art, Craft & Design. The course content is structured in order to give students a sound foundation in Art, Craft & Design while also providing a broad artistic experience which includes the preparation of a comprehensive portfolio of work. This portfolio can be used in order to gain entry to further studies in Art, Craft & Design at Third Level. Students will organise an exhibition of their work at the end of the year, they will engage in work experience, they will visit art galleries and guest speakers/local artists will visit the school in order to enrich the learning experience.

Finally this course offers a unique opportunity for students to liaise with a number of highly successful theatre companies within the county and to develop their design skills by working on set designs for theatrical performances. There is a long tradition of drama in the Carrigallen Area and the state of the art Cornmill Theatre is located on our doorstep. This element of the course complements the design module and also gives students an insight into the practicalities of event production. There is a wide range of expertise available in this area within the county and We plan to invite directors and set designers to visit the school and share their knowledge and experiences

This course would suit anybody interested in Art, Craft & Design. The Leaving Certificate is not a necessary entry requirement. Interested students will be interviewed and should show some evidence of artistic work if possible. Having obtained a FETAC Level 5 Award it is possible to progress to Higher Education Institutions in order to engage in further studies.
